Course Description

“Almost as if according to some natural law, in every century there seems to emerge a country with the power, the will, and the intellectual and moral impetus to shape the entire international system in accordance with its own values.” –Henry Kissinger

“We have been so very powerful, and so very prosperous, that even the humblest of us were degraded in the vices and follies of kings.” –Edmund Burke

This course analyzes the origins and evolution of the international system; theories for understanding international politics; explanations for foreign policy and war; and today’s globalized world order. As a US Secretary of State once observed, America’s effort in the 1940s to “create a world out of chaos” was not unlike God’s work at the dawn of time: it created a new world order. Yet despite such efforts to prevent them, wars, rivalries and mistrust persist. Can we really change international politics? And what sort of world order should international actors pursue? International Politics examines these questions. Along the way, students will review internationally-oriented jobs through resource collection exercises, and they will complete three exams as well as a research paper. Ultimately, we will identify the major themes of international relations as a social science and acquire tools as citizens to understand international politics, one of the most complex and important arenas of human society.

Course Materials¹

- Steven L. Lamy, et al. (2018) Introduction to Global Politics: Brief Edition 5th Edition. Oxford University Press. e-book (9780190904661), Loose Leaf (9780190904678) or Bound (ISBN: 9780190904654) acceptable.
- Richard Haas (2017) A World in Disarray: American Foreign Policy and the Crisis of the Old Order New York: Penguin Press. ISBN: 978-0-399-56236-5
- Readings in PDF format and online as assigned in the week’s module.

Topics

- The origins, development and realities of the modern international system.
- Overarching theories of international politics and how they are applied to contemporary events as well as long-term trends.
- How to explain the origins and conduct of foreign policy and war.
The current roles of international institutions and nonstate actors in global governance.

¹ The textbooks for this course are available on Reserve at the Circulation Desk at the John C. Pace Library for a 2-hour loan period (books must stay in the Library). Note: copies of textbooks for each course are limited and may be in use by another student, particularly right before an assignment or reading is due, so plan your textbook use accordingly.

Course Requirements

Participation & Attendance We will engage in in-class and online discussions, group work and individual assignments, and you will be graded on materials you submit, your overall contributions to class and your attendance record. I prioritize considered, thoughtful contributions over a large number of contributions. When in doubt, though, try to speak up once a week in addition to written work.

Attendance: You may miss two class meetings with no penalty but will lose 3% from your final participation grade for each missed period after that. Absences due to illness, religious observance, emergency or university-sponsored activities will be excused with proper documentation. (No need to contact me about missing class unless you have already missed two class periods and/or have documentation to present.)

NOTE: Regular attendance will be recorded and is required to receive financial aid. I will circulate a sign-in sheet most class meetings to document attendance. Attendance policies for General Education courses are constrained by the General Education Courses Attendance Policy for First Time in College (FTIC) Students, which states that “student attendance in General Education Courses is mandatory” (AC-33.01-12/14).

A link to the university attendance policy is required:

Resource Collection These assignments will integrate several course goals: building a class-wide annotated bibliography, developing our analytical skills, and exploring careers related to international politics. On the weeks noted in the syllabus, you will find and post a research document or describe and comment upon a job/career related to international politics. We will also spend time developing paper topics and abstracts so that you will be well-prepared for the final paper. LATE SUBMISSIONS ARE NOT ACCEPTED.

Exams The exams (16%, 16% and 18%) will involve multiple choice and short essay answers. You will receive a study guide before the exam, and we’ll discuss the requirements and expectations in more detail at that time.

Paper The final paper grade is to be no fewer than six and no more than eight pages long. The “Resource Collection” assignments are designed to guide and expand your research skills, source materials and writing abilities for the final paper. See the last page of this syllabus for details.

LATE PAPERS lose 5 points a day.

GRADING I consider how well you followed directions and focused tightly on your given topic; your mastery (i.e. correct understanding and general use) of the readings and other course material; your argument’s clarity, consistency and accuracy; overall structure and logic; overall clarity and grammar. See the document “Shively Paper Grading Rubric” for detailed break-down.

If you are struggling with your paper or feel unsure about how to improve your work, feel free to contact me or the University Writing Lab: <http://uwf.edu/writelab/>.

Grades

*You MUST complete both exams and the paper or you may receive a failing grade for the course. Plagiarism and/or academic dishonesty may also result in a failing grade for the assignment and course.

Participation 15% Exams 1 & 2 15% each Paper 20%
Resource Collections 15% Exam 3 20%

94% or better	A	87% to 89%	B+	77% to 79%	C+	63% to 69%	D

		80% to 82%	B-	70% to 72%	C-	59% or less	F

Academic Conduct

PLAGIARISM and ACADEMIC DISHONESTY involve adding others' words to your text as if they were your own and will not be tolerated. For University policies on plagiarism and other misconduct, see the Student Code of Conduct: <http://uwf.edu/osrr/documents/BOTApprovedStudentCodeofConduct-2010edition.pdf>.

Assistance for Students with Special Needs

If there are aspects of the instruction or design of this course that hinder your full participation, such as time-limited exams, inaccessible web content, or the use of non-captioned videos and podcasts, reasonable accommodations can be arranged. Prior to receiving accommodations, you must register with the Student Disability Resource Center (SDRC) at <http://uwf.edu/sdrc/internal/>, which requires documented needs of the individual. For information, e-mail sdrc@uwf.edu or call 850.474.2387.

General Education

INR 2002 is designated as a General Education course. The General Education curriculum at the University of West Florida is designed to provide a cohesive program of study that promotes the development of a broadly educated person and provides the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in university studies. This course has been approved as meeting your requirement in the Social Sciences. The major General Education learning outcomes for this course are Critical Thinking and Integrity/Values.

If you are interested in a major in Political Science, Pre-Law, or International Studies you should contact The Department of Government at 850-474-2929. If you are undecided about your major you should contact your academic advisor or the Career Center at 850-474-2254.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will analyze source material, current events and prospective career trajectories through a series of resource collections. (Critical Thinking)
- Students will evaluate ethical theories of IR through in-class discussion. (Values/Integrity)
- Students will integrate different perspectives through short essay answers on exams. (Critical Thinking)
- Students will apply writing, analytical and research skills through a term paper. (Values/Integrity and Critical Thinking)

COURSE SCHEDULE

- Readings not in assigned texts will appear in PDF form in eLearning > Course Materials>Content

Final Paper Instructions

Papers must be at least six but no more than eight (6 – 8) pages long. Grading standards are stated at the top of this syllabus and are detailed in the document “Shively Paper Grading Rubric” on eLearning.

Final Paper

Choose ONE:

- Compare two theories or concepts from the course by applying them to a current event or international issue. The goal here is to evaluate how well the theories or concepts explain or describe your topic. A simple approach is to compare realism and liberalism, but the assignment is flexible. See course notes and relevant textbook chapter(s) for other theory and concept ideas. For current events ideas, you might review some of the Resource Collections as a starting point.

- Evaluate a current event or international issue from the perspective of a hypothetical employer, such as a government agency, NGO or business. Write the paper as if your hypothetical employer asked you to analyze the topic from the perspective of political science. This means that you should articulate the employer’s interests and prerogatives as well as an honest analysis based upon a theory or concept presented in class.

Here is an outline for this approach: 1) present the topic, 2) present your employer’s interest in the topic, 3) apply a course theory or concept to the topic in order to analyze it, 4) present two sets of conclusions/findings: a) one as an employee offering recommendations/insights and b) one as a student in this course offering your reflection on whether and how your analysis was affected by approaching the topic as a representative of a specific employer.

Key Requirements:

- 1) For both options, you will advance a thesis, apply established theory/concept, evaluate about cause/effect relationships, and situate the issue in a larger context.

- 2) Your thesis should be a debated or debatable point. It must state a position and defend it. For example, you may conclude that Liberalism offers a stronger explanation for current transatlantic cooperation than Realism. In other words, this is NOT a report on a current event or issue. It must analyze the topic rather than simply offer an overview of the material. Later in the semester, we will discuss in detail my expectations.

- 3) Sources: You must have at least six total sources. Two of these may have appeared in your memos, but the rest need to be scholarly or similar types of material. Other legitimate sources include government documents, official statements or testimonies, reports from credible think tanks or NGOs, or long-form journalism. For background you might consult sources like Wikipedia or CIA World Factbook, but they will NOT count toward your source count. Feel free to contact me at any time regarding sources.

- 4) Formatting: 12-point Times New Roman OR 11-point Calibri font. 1 inch margins. Double-spaced. Title and works cited pages DO NOT count towards the page total. You may choose your citation style (such as APA or Chicago), but you must use that style consistently throughout. To cite a document retrieved online, use a standard format, DO NOT simply copy and paste the browser link.

Late papers will lose 5 points immediately and 5 more for each subsequent 24 hours.
